NEW DUTIES OF SOUTHERN LADIES. - The ladies of the South have been justly celebrated for their many excellent qualities—their cultivation, manners, and virtue-their devotion, patriotism and fortitude. The fiery ordeal through which they have passed, has but served to prove them pure gold. The men of the South are justly proud of them. In all the relations of mother, sister and wife, they have acquitted themselves not only handsomely, but nobly. In the past, they have proved themselves equal to every emergency. The change which has been wrought by the results of the war, (just now proclaimed by the Executive of the nation to be at an end,) imposes new duties upon the fair daughters of the South. They should now be not only ornamental, but useful. They should learn to perform, many domestic duties from which they have heretofore been exempt. The arts of sewing, knitting and cooking should be learned by every daughter of Southern parents. The performance of these duties should not bring the blush of shame, but the blush of pride, to their cheeks. The knowledge of these duties, and the willingness to perform them, when circumstances render it necessary, should be recognized as great and desirable accomplishments, more valuable than the knowledge of a little French, the latest Paris fashions, and the rudiments of the science of music. To a sensible man, the useful accomplishments would be the highest recommendation. There is no incompatibility between the useful and ornamental accomplishments—the same lady might and should possess both. We would not have the ladies to become drudges-it was not designed by nature that fair and lovely as themselves, and as much entitled to exemption from such domestic duties. She fact that Southern ladies, we mean single wille. W. H. McCAFFERTY, mh 28—td Gen'l, Sup't. O. & A. R. R. daughters, have not been expected or required to perform domestic duties, has diminished not only their value, but their attractiveness; as, for the want of proper exercise of both mind and body, their beauty and health bave been impaired. The girl that performs these duties has both mind and body properly developed. She needs no rouge for her cheeks, no indiarubber bust, no talse calves-she spuros all the devices of art, and moves with grace and pride the conscious possessor of the rich gift of nature. - Staunton Spectator.

THE POOR WOMEN OF RICHMOND and its suberbs are suffering greatly for the necessaries of life, and we very much fear that our charitable institutions have not themeans with which to relieve them. We heard yesterday of a widow lady who occupies a room in a hovel on the south side of Union Hill, near twenty-third street, who is prostrate from consumption, who has not a dollar in the world, and who must perish from cold and hunger if not relieved by charity. This poor woman has one or two helpless children. A few days since she was temporarily relieved by a kind-hearted lady, who then saw her in search of work, and who has since aided her to the extent of her limited means. And this poor woman presents no exceptional case. There are hundreds of destitute females begging in vain for work with that may favor him with their patronage. which to earn their bread.—Rich. The best superphosphate yet offered to the farmer, possessing all the activity of Peruvian Guano, but being far more durable in its effects.

It contains a large amount of animal matter in a highly concentrated form, which, combined with its soluble bone phosphate of lime, cannot fail to render it very valuable as a tertilizer.— Notwithstanding we believe it to be the best super-phosphate in the market, yet, by a process peculiar in its manufacture, whereby the expenses are lessened, we are enabled to sell it very low, with a liberal discount to dealers.
